ART IN VILNIUS

An art capital is calling

ART IN OPEN SPACES

Vilnius can be an open gallery 24/7. No fees, just the pure pleasure of discovering art. The city's walls are constantly changing with street art and unique installations by famous creators. Just take a look around.

UŽUPIS ART

Užupeis is known for attracting artists and intellectuals - their dialogues serve as a perfect medium for creativity. That's why most of the artwork in the independent republic of Užupeis doesn't stay there forever and is replaced with something new.

Sculptures, graffiti, installations, performances - art is around every corner, so stay curious and don't be afraid to poke your nose around into the quiet courtyards. You can also discover a piece of avantgarde art right in the heart of the district. The Draught Alley that conveniently connects the Vilnius Academy of Arts with Užupeis Street. This narrow alley decorated by painters from all over the world is named after Jonas Mekas, a Lithuanian American filmmaker and the godfather of American avant-garde cinema.

But whenever you visit Užupeis, you can be sure that the guardian angel will be standing there overlooking the district and keeping it safe. Urban legend has it that placing a sculpture of an angel here was a suggestion made by the Dalai Lama on one of his visits to the city, but in reality the sculpture is a memory to Zenonas Šteinys, an artist and active member of the local community.

PARKS IN VILNIUS

Luscious nature in an urban setting

PARKS IN VILNIUS

Vilnius is famous for being a green city filled with parks. There's always a spot to relax and feel like you're deep in a forest without setting foot outside the city centre.

BERNARDINE GARDEN

Established in 1469 by the Bernardine monks this garden is probably the oldest park and botanical garden in Vilnius. Conveniently located in the heart of the Old Town next to the main sightseeing objects - Gediminas Castle, the Cathedral, and the Bernardine Monastery - the park is full of entertainment and the wonders of nature. You're in for a game of chess, a botanical exposition, romantic cafes where you can get warm and cosy, and a musical fountain playing rhythms from popular classical and modern pieces to set the mood. The park has many corners, so you can sneak away and hide from the world.

Until the 14th century, what is now the Bernardine Garden used to be the site of a Lithuanian pagan saint oaks wood. Today, the garden is home to the oldest oak tree in Vilnius, at about 300 years. You can also explore the authentic reconstructed monastery garden exposition with medicinal herbs, potherbs, and edible plants.

The garden is a great spot to relax while it's in full bloom in the summer, but you can listen to the Vilnelė River flow and watch nature change all year round. You can also get a different perspective of the park from the top of the Hill of the Three Crosses or with a cup of coffee on the terrace of Strange Love.

FREE

KALNŲ PARK

Located in the centre of Vilnius, Kalnų Park is conveniently accessible. Climb the hill and you'll discover a wonderful panorama of the city. Various concerts and festivals are organised there in the summer, and it's a lovely place for a leisurely stroll or for some hiking, since Kalnų Park is surrounded by several hills.

The Hill of Three Crosses is the most prominent of all as it is visible from afar. It is believed that at some point in history seven Franciscan monks were tortured to death by pagans on that hill, pinned to crosses, and floated down the river.

Kalnų Park holds a lot of secrets, as it hasn't been well researched yet. It is known that a small settlement existed there in the 13th and 14th centuries. Keep an eye out for an ancient pagan altar; to this day those interested in paganism come to celebrate here.

EUROPA PARK

Europa Park is a completely different space that demonstrates the power of one person. The idea to create Europa Park and give meaning to the geographical centre of Europe through art was born in 1991. What started with one sculpture by 19-year-old art student Gintaras Karosas has now grown to more than 130 works of art.

Today, the park is an impressive contemporary art museums where art and nature live in harmony. The area has forests, meadows, hills, and ponds making for an interesting walk in itself. But nature is complemented by art. The location of each work of art is chosen to create a harmony with the surrounding trees, flowers, and daily patterns of lights and shadows. The park hosts an annual International Sculpture Symposium and international artist-in-residence programmes twice a year, which means it grows in scale every year.

VILNIUS UNIVERSITY BOTANICAL GARDEN

A little further away from the city centre, Vilnius University Botanical Garden attracts visitors with its impressive blossoms. Vilnius University Botanical Garden is the largest garden in Lithuania with the richest collection of plants: there are as many as 4,600 different plant species and cultivars in the greenhouses and outdoors.

Rhododendrons, lilies, peonies, or roses – the aromas and colours are so dizzying you might need to sit on one of the 132 benches. It's an oasis of fresh air and tranquillity, a great place to escape the world and enjoy the ever-changing nature while walking the well-groomed garden paths or going to open-air concerts in the summer.

The Botanical Garden is also home to the first Green Home in Lithuania with plant walls and a rooftop garden. Green columns surround the entire building, with the southern wall featuring a transparent greenhouse. The crown of the building is the green rooftop observation deck, which offers breath-taking views of the growing labyrinth and the Botanical Garden.

DAY TRIPS

After getting to know Vilnius it's worth spending half a day exploring the neighbourhood towns and learning their stories and historical pasts.

TRAKAI

Take in the resort atmosphere of Trakai. The historic town has a fascinating lake with the Trakai Island Castle right in the middle of it. It looks like a fairy tale and reminds visitors of the days when the Grand Duke of Lithuania Vytautas spent his time here in the 15th century.

Local Karaims are the smallest ethnic group presently living in Lithuania with the largest community based in Trakai since the 14th century. Of Turkic decent, their national pastry kibinai which is stuffed with minced meat, mushrooms, or vegetables have become a staple delicacy of Trakai. Sit down on the lakeshore and taste this local delicacy with a view of the castle. Trakai is easy to reach by car or public transport, and you can also take a discounted tour with your Vilnius Pass.

JEWISH VILNIUS

Walking the routes of the Jerusalem of the North

JEWISH VILNIUS

Vilnius was once called the Jerusalem of the North and was home to many famous Jewish scholars and rabbis who lived and worked to create a rich and diverse culture over the 700 years of their presence. 2020 is the year of the Vilna (Gaon Elijah ben Solomon Zalman) and the History of the Jews of Lithuania.

THE GLASS QUARTER

In a 1633 document, Ladislaus IV Vasa granted Jews the privilege of establishing their own quarter in Vilnius. The Glass Quarter was one of the most vibrant of the city's arteries with the Great Synagogue as its most important building. Today, the quarter retains the memory of its former Jewish heritage.

THE SMALL GHETTO

In the 17th century, the intersection of Stiklių, Gaono and Žydų Streets was filled with Jewish merchants. During the Nazi occupation of Lithuania, the Jewish Quarter was turned into the Small Ghetto with 11,000 Jews. The Small Ghetto was liquidated and the vast majority of its inhabitants were murdered on 21 October 1941.

THE GREAT VILNIUS GHETTO

The ghetto existed from 6 September 1941 to 23 September 1943, within the boundaries of Lydos, Rūdninkų, Mėsinių, Ašmenos, Žemaitijos, Dysnos, Šiaulių and Ligoninės streets. There were about 29,000 Jews living in it; most of them were murdered in Paneriai. Today, 23 September is a day reserved for commemorating the Jewish Genocide in Lithuania.

WALLS THAT REMEMBER, THE GLASS QUARTER

The old inhabitants of the quarter are alive on the walls of the buildings. The people in Lina Šlipavičiūtė-Černiauskienė's project tell the story of the old Jewish quarter reconstructing the episodes of the past. This is an ongoing project, so keep an eye out for new works.

Even though Vilnius is a compact and walkable city, it's fun to have some rest and explore the city at the same time. The hop-on hop-off tours are great for a leisurely sightseeing experience. The tours usually start at Cathedral Square and the routes take you to all the top landmarks. The bus will stop at your request at the most famous sightseeing objects: Pilies Street and the independent republic of Užupis, Town Hall Square, White Bridge, St. Peter and Paul Church, etc. With Vilnius Pass you can take the bus tours for free.

A CAR WHEN YOU NEED IT

If you love travelling independently, a car can be the right choice. Tailor your visit to fit your travel style. Of course, there are several car rental agencies, but car sharing might be an easier option, especially if you're up for something spontaneous. It works regardless if you need a car for half an hour or for a trip around Lithuania. Take it, drive it, leave it - it's as simple as that with the CityBee or Spark car sharing systems. Choose by size, preferred model or transmission.
